— Anna

HUMANITY HAS NO BORDERS.
OTHER PEOPLE WITH RESPECT

Not all people in the world are lucky in fact there are people who don't have a good life. There are some people who pray to survive their day and also there are people who hope to have a better life.

People who move in another country can be migrants or refugees, but they move different reasons. Migrants are people who move in another country for a better life and refugees are afraid to move because they want their human rights to be respected.

Yesterday we went to the refugee camp in Hungary and we know the real conditions. There are 1000 this conditions for their days while they are in the camp. There they have classrooms, kitchen and bathroom. It can make they need to show their borders, their nationality their documents for better life. Migrants can't be afraid to accept respect their human rights. All the other things we can do for them is hope for the refugees.

There are some organizations who help these people, like UNICEF and UNHCR. Some of the conditions the conditions we are all humans. The world called is a better place if we respect each other.

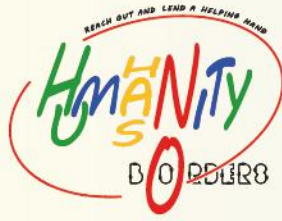

"REFUGEES NOW, HUMANS FOREVER!"

—by Daria, Francesco and Maria
